

Tapas and Sangria Challenge

Spice up your team's evening with this food and beverage challenge direct from Spain! Your group creates tapas - small savory dishes of Spanish cuisine - and sangria - a Spanish drink of wine mixed with fruit, spices and more!

Results from a quick opening round of Spanish trivia determines the order in which teams choose a tapas dish to create. Each team will also decide on a sangria type, restaurant name and logo design in order to produce a fun marketing mini-presentation.

The Team Experience:

- An exciting opening icebreaker leads to ranking of teams later used to select special ingredients at the "marketplace"
- Duties are delegated within teams to create their tapas and sangria, restaurant name/logo and marketing skit
- Tables are equipped with all necessary equipment for teams to accomplish their tasks and to finish within the allotted time
- Using an 'American Idol'-style judging panel, "restaurants" present their work to the judges for taste testing and scoring
- While scores are being tabulated, a networking session commences where participants visit each other's restaurants and taste the competitions' dishes and drinks
- Winners are announced and awarded their well-deserved culinary gold medals
